E'S COUGH BALSAM!

long tried and popular Remedy is again called attention of the public. As often as the year round, the proprietors annually make their the people, and remind them that amongst the things required for the health, comfort and sus
e of the family through the long and tedious s of winter, Coe's Cough Balsam should not be en. For years it has been a household medi-nd mothers anxious for the safety of their chilnd all who suffer from any disease of the throat, nd lungs, cannot afford to be without it. In n to the ordinary four ounce so long in th
, we now furnish our mammoth family size
, which will, in common with the other size, be t all Drug Stores.

N. WEAVER & SON, Proprietors,

HAVING this day associated with me my son LEVI in the Livery Business, carried on by me on Washington street for a number of years, I would respectfully return my thanks to the public for the kind patronage heretofore extended to me.
Having now superior accommodations to supply the public, we would solicit a continuation of their patronage.
We claim that we can furnish superior teams at as moderate prices as any other establishment in Gettysburg.
Our stables will be found stocked with the best of Horses and Vehicles.
We can furnish you a fine Hack team with careful and obliging drivers for long or short drives. We can furnish you a pair of Horses and Buggy.
We can furnish you a nice single Horse and Buggy for business or pleasure trip.
We can furnish you a fine Saddle Horse for Gentleman or Lady.
We can furnish you a Family Horse and Carriage.
We can furnish superior facilities for visiting the Battle-field and Springs.
Particular attention paid to supplying Hacks for Funerals.
In fact, you can get any kind of a team to be had in a first class Livery.

HORSES BOUGHT AND SOLD

at all times and on reasonable terms. Persons buying Horses at this establishment have a good collection to select from. All Horses sold guaranteed as represented, or no sale.
By strict attention to business, with a desire to please, we hope to have something to do.

ADJOINING THE EAGLE HOTEL.

THE undersigned would respectfully inform the public that he has opened a new LIVERY, SALE AND EXCHANGE STABLE in this place, and is prepared to offer superior accommodations in this line. He has provided himself with Buggies, Carriages, Hacks, Light Wagons, &c., of the latest styles, sufficient to meet the public demand. His horses are all good, without spot or blemish, and perfectly reliable—none of your "old cripples," but all of the "2.40" order.
Riding parties can always be accommodated and comfortable equipments furnished.
Parties, large or small, can get just what they want on the most accommodating terms.
Visitors to the Battle-field politely attended to and reliable drivers furnished if desired.
Parties conveyed to and from the Depot upon the arrival and departure of every train.
Horses bought, sold, or exchanged, and always a chance for bargains given. Our motto is "fair play and no gouging."
☞Particular attention paid to furnishing Vehicles and Hacks for Funerals.
☞We flatter ourselves that by charging moderately and by furnishing superior accommodations, we cannot fail to please every one who patronizes our establishment. T. T. TATE.

TRY THE Star Bone Phosphate.

TO all agriculturists, therefore, who are in search of an active and permanent manure, and who may have the claims of this article presented to their notice for the first time, the manufacturers would suggest, that the

is worthy of their experimental trial, at last; past experience warranting the fullest confidence, that after a trial they will add their testimony to that of hundreds of farmers who now regard it as the cheapest and best manure in the market.

THE AMMONIA

is supplied abundantly from the organic portion of the bone.

A Word to the Wise!
HIGHLY IMPORTANT TO FARMERS!
Renner's Chemical Fertilizer!

THE importance of a quick, active and durable Fertilizer, adapted to the soil of our county, is acknowledged by all Farmers. Having satisfied myself, after long study and careful experiment, that F. C. RENNER's surpasses all others in adaptedness to all kinds of soil, I have purchased the right for Adams county, and am prepared to fill orders for it promptly and on reasonable terms. It is no humbug, but

Chemical Fertilizer

HAS BEEN SUCCESSFULLY TRIED

by a number of our Farmers, and is admitted by all who have it to be the best in the market, and the cheapest. I am prepared to furnish this Fertilizer in any quantity, and will deliver

In any town or village in the County, when ordered in not less quantity than a TON. I manufacture it for sale at $50 per ton without bags, or $55 in bags. This fertilizer is composed of the best fertilizing chemicals that can be had. I use no oil of vitriol; it does not contain any ammonia, therefore I do not use it. Neither do I use lime nor ashes.

THE OBJECT OF THE CHEMICAL FERTILIZER is to introduce a fertilizer that will last for a series of crops—not only for one. It contains sufficient animal matter to mature the grain and make it ripen early, while the ammonia forces the growth. I expect to manufacture a large supply this winter for the spring crops, and therefore invite farmers and the public generally to give it a trial on all kinds of Grains and Vegetables.

CAUTION.—I hereby give notice that Farm Rights hereafter sold, unless signed by me, are infringements on my Right, and will be prosecuted and dealt with according to law, from which there is no appeal.

The Star and Sentinel.

A LITTLE GOOSEY.

[The following exquisitely simple verses, from the pen of an "Unknown," will touch the heart of every father and mother.]

The chill November day was done,
The working world home faring;
The wind came roaring through the streets
And set the gas lights flaring;
And hopelessly and aimlessly
The scared old leaves were flying;
When mingled with the soughing wind
I heard a small voice crying—

And shivering on the corner stood
A child of four or over;
No cloak nor hat her small, soft arms,
And wind blown curls to cover.
Her dimple face was stained with tears;
Her round, blue eyes ran over;
She cherished in her wee, cold hand,
A bunch of faded clover:

And one hand round her treasure, while
She slipped in mine the other;
Half-scared, half-confidential, said,
"Oh! please, I want my mother."
"Tell me your street and number, pet;
Don't cry, I'll take you to it."
Sobbing she answered, "I forget;
The organ made me do it:

"He came and played at Milly's steps;
The monkey took the money,
And so I followed down the street,
The monkey was so funny.
I've walked about a hundred hours,
From one street to another;
The monkey's gone, I've spoiled my flowers—
Oh! please, I want my mother."

"But what's your mother's name, and what
The street? now think a minute."
"My mother's name is mamma dear—
The street—I can't begin it."
"But what is strange about the house,
Or new, not like the others?"
"I guess you mean my trundle bed,
Mine and my little brother's:

"Oh! dear! I ought to be at home
To help him say his prayers,
He's such a baby he forgets,
And we are both such players—
And there's a bar between to keep
From pitching on each other,
For Harry rolls when he's sleep;
Oh, dear! I want my mother."

The sky grew stormy; people passed
All muffled, homeward faring;
"You'll have to spend the night with me,"
I said, at last, despairing.
I tied a kerchief round her neck—
"What ribbon's this, my blossom?"
"Why! don't you know?" she smiling, asked,
And drew it from her bosom.

A cord, with number, street and name;
My eyes astonished met it;
"For," said the little one, "you see
I might sometimes forget it;
And so I wear a little thing
That tells you all about it;
For mother says she's very sure
I would get lost without it."

THE ORANG-UTAN AND THE BIRD OF PARADISE.

WALLACE'S MALAY ARCHIPELAGO.

The Harpers have just issued one of the most delightful books which has appeared for many a day. Its title is "The Malay Archipelago: the Land of the Orang-Utan and the Bird of Paradise; a Narrative of Travel, with Studies of Man and Nature, by Alfred Russel Wallace, author of 'Travels on the Amazon and Rio Negro,' 'Palm Trees of the Amazon,' &c."

Mr. Wallace is one of the first naturalists of England; a man of science in the broadest sense of the word; he travelled during eight years—from 1854 to 1862—in the Malayan Islands, extending his explorations as far as the little known coasts of New Guinea. He collected 125,660 specimens of natural history; and he gives in this volume not only the first full account of such interesting animals as the Orang-Utan and the Birds of Paradise, but also most interesting descriptions, from the hand of a scientific observer, of the great archipelago in which he passed so many years; of their geology and natural history, the manners, customs and relations of their tribes, and the climate and productions of this little known part of the world.

Mr. Wallace's style is as charming as Darwin's, and greater praise it could not have. His scientific observations are as interesting as other people's adventures; he is a truly intelligent writer—one who has the power to interest others in his pursuits, investigations and speculations.

A BAZAAR IN SINGAPORE.

In the Chinese bazaar are hundreds of small shops in which a miscellaneous collection of hardware and dry goods are to be found, and where many things are sold wonderfully cheap. You may buy gimlets at a penny each, white cotton thread at four balls for a half-penny, and penknives, corkscrews, gunpowder, writing paper and many other articles as cheap or cheaper than you can purchase them in England.—The shop-keeper is very good-natured; he will show you everything he has, and does not seem to mind if you buy nothing. He bates a little, but not so much as the Klings, who almost always ask twice what they are willing to take. If you buy a few things of him, he will speak to you afterward every time you pass his shop, asking you to walk in and sit down, or take a cup of tea, and you wonder how he can get a living where so many sell the same trifling articles. The tailors sit at a table, not on one; and both they and the shoemakers work well and cheaply. The barbers have plenty to do, shaving heads and cleaning ears, for which latter operation they have a great array of little tweezers, picks and brushes. In the outskirts of the town are scores of carpenters and blacksmiths. The former seem chiefly to make coffins and highly-painted and decorated clothes-boxes. The latter are mostly gunmakers, and bore the barrels of guns by hand out of solid bars of iron.—At this tedious operation they may be seen every day, and they manage to finish off a gun with a flint lock very handsomely.—All about the streets are sellers of water, vegetables, fruit, soup, and agar-agar (a jelly made of sea-weed), who have many cries as unintelligible as those of London.

AN ORANG-UTAN BABY.

Only four days afterward some Dyaks saw another mias near the same place, and came to tell me. We found it to be a rather large one, very high up on a tall tree. At the second shot it fell, rolling over, but almost immediately got up again and began to climb. At a third shot it fell dead. This was also a full-grown female, and while preparing to carry it home, we found a young one face downward in the bog. This little creature was only about a foot long, and had evidently been hanging to its mother when she first fell. Luckily it did not appear to have been wounded, and after we had cleaned the mud out of its mouth it began to cry out, and seemed quite strong and active. While carrying it home it got its hands into my beard, and grasped so tightly that I had great difficulty in getting free, for the fingers are habitually bent inward at the last joint so as to form complete hooks. At this time it had not a single tooth, but a few days afterward it cut its two lower front teeth.

Unfortunately, I had no milk to give it, as neither Malays, Chinese nor Dyaks ever use the article, and I in vain inquired for any female animal that could suckle my little infant. I was therefore obliged to give it rice water from a bottle with a quill in the cork, which after a few trials it learned to suck very well. This was very meagre diet, and the little creature did not thrive well on it, although I added sugar and cocoanut milk occasionally, to make it more nourishing.

When I put my finger in its mouth, it sucked with great vigor, drawing in its cheeks with all its might in the vain effort to extract some milk, and only after persevering a long time would it give up in disgust, and set up a scream very like that of a baby in similar circumstances.

When handled or nursed it was very quiet and contented, but when laid down by itself would invariably cry, and for the first few nights was very restless and noisy. I fitted up a little box for a cradle, with a soft mat for it to lie upon, which was changed and washed every day, and I soon found it necessary to wash the little miss as well. After I had done so a few times it came to like the operation, and as soon as it was dirty would begin crying, and not leave off till I took it out and carried it to the spout, when it immediately became quiet, although it would wince a little at the first rush of the cold water, and make ridiculously wry faces while the stream was running over its head. It enjoyed the wiping and rubbing dry amazingly, and when I brushed its hair seemed to be perfectly happy, lying quite still, with its arms and legs stretched out, while I thoroughly brushed the long hair of its back and arms.

For the first few days it clung desperately with all four hands to whatever it could lay hold of, and I had to be careful to keep my beard out of its way, as its fingers clutched hold of hair more tenaciously than anything else, and it was impossible to free myself without assistance. When restless, it would struggle about with its hands up in the air trying to find something to take hold of, and when it had got a bit of stick or rag in two or three of its hands seemed quite happy. For want of something else, it would often seize its own feet, and after a time it would constantly cross its arms and grasp with each hand the long hair that grew just below the opposite shoulder.

The great tenacity of its grasp soon diminished, and I was obliged to invent some means to give it exercise and strengthen its limbs. For this purpose I made a short ladder of three or four rounds, on which I put it to hang for a quarter of an hour at a time. At first it seemed much pleased, but it could not get all four hands in a comfortable position, and after changing about several times would leave hold of one hand after the other, and drop on to the floor. Sometimes, when hanging only by two hands, it would loose one, and cross it to the opposite shoulder, grasping its own hair; and as this seemed much more agreeable than the stick, it would then loose the other and tumble down, when it would cross both and lie on its back quite contentedly, never seeming to be hurt by its numerous tumbles.

Finding it so fond of hair I endeavored to make an artifical mother by wrapping up a piece of buffalo-skin into a bundle, and suspending it about a foot from the floor. At first this seemed to suit it admirably, as it could sprawl its legs about and always find some hair, which it grasped with the greatest tenacity. I was now in hopes that I had made the little orphan quite happy; and so it seemed for some time, till it began to remember its lost parent and try to suck. It would pull itself up close to the skin, and try about everywhere for a likely place; but, as it only succeeded in getting mouthfuls of hair and wool, it would be greatly disgusted, and scream violently, and, after two or three attempts, let go altogether.—One day it got some wool into its throat, and I thought it would have choked, but after much gasping it recovered, and I was obliged to take the imitation mother to pieces again, and give up this last attempt to exercise the little creature.

The poor little thing died, in spite of the care of its ingenious captor.

HABITS OF THE ORANG-UTAN.

It is a singular and very interesting sight to watch a mias making his way leisurely through the forest. He walks deliberately along some of the larger branches, in the semi-erect attitude which the great length of his arms and the shortness of his legs cause him naturally to assume; and the disproportion between these limbs is increased by his walking on his knuckles, not on the palm of the hand, as we should do. He seems always to choose those branches which intermingle with an adjoining tree, on approaching which he stretches out his long arms, and, seizing the opposing boughs, grasps them together with both hands, seems to try their strength, and then deliberately swings himself across to the next branch, on which he walks along as before. He never jumps or springs, or even appears to hurry himself, and yet manages to get along almost as quickly as a person can run through the forest beneath. The long and powerful arms are of the greatest use to the animal, enabling it to climb easily up the loftiest trees, to seize fruits and young leaves from slender boughs which will not bear its weight, and to gather leaves and branches with which to form its nest. I have already described how it forms a nest when wounded, but it uses a similar one to sleep on almost every night. This is placed low down, however, on a small tree, not more than from twenty to fifty feet from the ground, probably because it is warmer and less exposed to wind than higher up. Each mias is said to make a fresh one for himself every night; but I should think that is hardly probable, or their remains would be much more abundant; for though I saw several about the coal mines, there must have been many orangs about every day, and in a year their deserted nests would become very numerous. The Dyaks say that, when it is very wet, the mias covers himself over with leaves of pandanus, or large ferns, which has, perhaps, led to the story of his making a hut in the trees.

The orang does not leave his bed till the sun has well risen and has dried up the dew upon the leaves. He feeds all through the middle of the day, but seldom returns to the same tree two days running. They do not seem much alarmed at man, as they often stared down upon me for several minutes, and then only moved away slowly to an adjacent tree.

A REMARKABLE BIRD.

The Megapodidæ are a small family of birds found only in Australia and the surrounding islands, but extending as far as the Philippines and Northwest Borneo.—They are allied to the gallinaceous birds, but differ from these and from all others in never sitting upon their eggs, which they bury in sand, earth or rubbish, and leave to be hatched by the heat of the sun or of fermentation. They are all characterized by very large feet and long curved claws, and most of the species of Megapodius rake and scratch together all kinds of rubbish, dead leaves, sticks, stones, earth, rotten wood, &c., till they form a large mound, often six feet high and twelve feet across, in the middle of which they bury their eggs. The natives can tell by the condition of these mounds whether they contain eggs or not; and they rob them whenever they can, as the brick-red eggs (as large as those of a swan) are considered a great delicacy. A number of birds are said to join in making these mounds and lay their eggs together, so that sometimes forty or fifty may be found. The mounds are to be met with here and there in dense thickets, and are great puzzles to strangers, who cannot understand who can possibly have heaped together cart-loads of rubbish in such out-of-the way places; and when they inquire of the natives they are but little wiser, for it almost always appears to them the wildest romance to be told that it is all done by birds. The species found in Lombock is about the size of a small hen, and entirely dark olive and brown tints. It is a miscellaneous feeder, devouring fallen fruits, earth-worms, snails and centipedes, but the flesh is white and well flavored when properly cooked.

At another place he saw the nesting places on a bare beach, whither the birds came down from a distance of ten or fifteen miles to deposit their eggs:

"It is in this loose hot black sand that those singular birds, the 'maleos,' deposit their eggs. In the months of August and September, when there is little or no rain, they come down in pairs from the interior to this or to one or two other favorite spots, and scratch holes three or four feet deep, just above high-water mark, where the female deposits a single large egg, which she covers over with about a foot of sand, and then returns to the forest. At the end of ten or twelve days she comes again to the same spot to lay another egg, and each female bird is supposed to lay six or eight eggs during the season. The male assists the female in making the hole, coming down and returning with her. The appearance of the bird when walking on the beach is very handsome. The glossy black and rosy white of the plumage, the helmeted head and elevated tail, like that of the common fowl, giving a striking character, which their stately and somewhat sedate walk renders still more remarkable. There is hardly any difference between the sexes, except that the casque or bonnet at the back of the head and the turbercles at the nostrils are a little larger, and the beautiful rosy salmon color a little deeper in the male bird; but the difference is so slight that it is not always possible to tell a male from a female without dissection. They run quickly, but when shot at or suddenly disturbed take wing with a heavy noisy flight to some neighboring tree, where they settle on a low branch, and they probably roost at night in a similar situation. Many birds lay in the same hole, for a dozen eggs are often found together; and these are so large that it is not possible for the body of the bird to contain more than one fully developed egg at the same time. In all the female birds which I shot, none of the eggs besides the one large one exceeded the size of peas and there were only eight or nine of these, which is probably the extreme number a bird can lay in one season.

"Every year the natives come for fifty miles round to obtain these eggs, which are esteemed a great delicacy, and when quite fresh are indeed delicious. They are richer than hen's eggs, and of a finer flavor, and each one completely fills an ordinary teacup, and forms, with bread or rice, a very good meal. The color of the shell is a pale brick-red, or very rarely pure white. They are elongate, and very slightly smaller at one end, and from four to four and a half inches long by two and a quarter or two and a half wide.

"After the eggs are deposited in the sand they are no further cared for by the mother. The young birds, on breaking the shell, work their way up through the sand and run off at once to the forest; and I was assured by Mr. Duivenboden of Termate that they can fly the very day they are hatched. He had taken some eggs on board his schooner, which hatched during the night, and in the morning the little birds flew readily across the cabin. Considering the great distances the birds come to deposit the eggs in a proper situation (often ten or fifteen miles), it seems extraordinary that they should take no further care of them. It is, however, quite certain that they neither do nor can watch them. The eggs being deposited by a number of hens in succession in the same hole, would render it impossible for each to distinguish its own, and the food necessary for such large birds (consisting entirely of fallen fruits) can only be obtained by roaming over an extensive district; so that if the numbers of birds which come down to this single beach in the breeding season, amounting to many hundreds, were obliged to remain in the vicinity, many would perish of hunger.

"In the structure of the feet of this bird we may detect a cause for its departing from the habits of its nearest allies, the Megapodidæ and Talegalli, which heap up earth, leaves, stones and sticks into a huge mound, in which they bury their eggs. The feet of the maleo are not nearly so large or strong in proportion as in these birds, while its claws are short and straight, instead of being long and much curved. The toes are, however, strongly webbed at the base, forming a broad, powerful foot, which, with the rather long leg, is well adapted to scratch away the loose sand (which flies up in a perfect shower when the birds are at work), but which could not without much labor accumulate the heaps of miscellaneous rubbish which the large, grasping feet of the Megapodidæ bring together with ease.

"We may also, I think, see in the peculiar organization of the entire family of the Megapodidæ, or brush-turkeys, a reason why they depart so widely from the usual habits of the class of birds. Each egg being so large as entirely to fill up the abdominal cavity and with difficulty pass the walls of the pelvis, a considerable interval is required before the successive ones can be matured (the natives say about thirteen days). Each bird lays six or eight eggs or even more each season, so that between the first and last there may be an interval of two or three months. Now, if these eggs were hatched in the ordinary way, either the parent must keep sitting continually for this long period; or if they only began to sit after the last egg was deposited, the first would be exposed to injury by the climate, or to destruction by the large lizards, snakes, or other animals which abound in the district, because such large birds must roam about a good deal in search of food. Here, then, we seem to have a case in which the habits of a bird may be directly traced to its exceptional organization; for it will hardly be maintained that this abnormal structure and peculiar food were given to the Megapodidæ, in order that they might not exhibit that parental affection, or possess those domestic instincts so general in the class of birds, and which so much excite our admiration."

ARE MEN GOVERNED TOO MUCH?

It is easy to see that Mr. Wallace, living so long among half civilized and among savage men, has learned to admire and respect man untrammelled by elaborate systems of laws. An instructive passage at the end of his book, on this subject, must close our extracts from this delightful book:

"We most of us believe that we, the higher races, have progressed and are progressing. If so, there must be some state of perfection, some ultimate goal, which we may never reach, but to which all true progress must bring us nearer. What is this ideally perfect social state toward which mankind ever has been, and still is tending? Our best thinkers maintain that it is a state of individual freedom and self-government, rendered possible by the equal development and just balance of the intellectual, moral, and physical parts of our nature—a state in which we shall each be so perfectly fitted for a social existence, by knowing what is right, and at the same time feeling an irresistible impulse to do what we know to be right, that all laws and all punishments shall be unnecessary. In such a state every man would have a sufficiently well balanced intellectual organization to understand the moral law in all its details, and would require no other motive but the free impulses of his own nature to obey that law.

"Now it is very remarkable that among people in a very low stage of civilization we find some approach to such a perfect social state. I have lived with communities of savages in South America and the East, who have no laws or law courts, but the public opinion of the village freely expressed. Each man scrupulously respects the rights of his fellow, and any infraction of those rights rarely or never takes place. In such a community all are nearly equal. There are none of those wide distinctions of education and ignorance, wealth and poverty, master and servant, which are the product of our civilization; there is none of that wide-spread division of labor, which, while it increases wealth, produces also conflicting interests; there is not that severe competition and struggle for existence, or for wealth, which the dense population of civilized countries inevitably creates.—All incitements to great crimes are thus wanting, and petty ones are repressed, partly by the influence of public opinion, but chiefly by that natural sense of justice, and of his neighbor's right, which seems to be, in some degree, inherent in every race of man.

"Now, although we have progressed vastly beyond that savage state in intellectual achievements, we have not advanced equally in morals. It is true that among those classes who have no wants that cannot be easily supplied, and among whom public opinion has great influence, the rights of others are fully respected. It is true, also, that we have vastly extended the sphere of those rights, and include within them all the brotherhood of man. But it is not too much to say, that the mass of our populations have not at all advanced beyond the savage code of morals, and have in many cases sunk below it. A deficient morality is the great blot of modern civilization, and the greatest hindrance to true progress."

LEARN TO KEEP HOUSE.

No young lady can be too well instructed in anything which will affect the comfort of a family. Whatever position in society she occupies, she needs a practical knowlegde of household duties. She may be placed in such circumstances that will not be necessary for her to perform much domestic labor; but on this account she needs no less knowledge than if she was obliged to preside personally over the cooking stove and pantry. Indeed, I have thought it was more difficult to direct others, and requires more experience, than to do the same work with our own hands.

Mothers are frequently so nice and particular that they do not like to give up any part of the care of their children. This is a great mistake in their management, for they are often burdened with labor and need relief. Children should be early taught to make themselves useful; to assist their parents every way in their power, and consider it a privilege to do so.

Young people cannot realize the importance of a thorough knowledge of housewifery; but those who have suffered the inconvenience and mortification of ignorance can well appreciate it. Children should be early indulged in their disposition to bake and experiment in various ways. It is often but a troublesome help that they afford; still it is a great advantage to them. I know a little girl who at nine years old made a loaf of bread every week during the winter. Her mother taught her how much yeast, salt and flour to use, and she became quite an expert baker. Whenever she is disposed to try her skill in making simple cakes or pies, she is permitted to do so. She is thus, while amusing herself, learning an important lesson. Her mother calls her little housekeeper, and often permits her to get what is necessary for the table. She hangs the keys by her side, and very musical is the jingling to her ears.—I think before she is out of her teens, upon which she has not yet entered, that she will have some idea how to cook.

Some mothers give their daughters the care of housekeeping, each a week by turns. It seems to me a good arrangement and a most useful part of their education. Domestic labor is by no means incompatible with the highest degree of refinement and mental culture.

Economy, taste, skill in cooking, neatness of the kitchen, have a great deal to do making life happy and prosperous. The charm of good housekeeping is in order, economy and taste displayed in attention to little things; and these things have a wonderful influence. A dirty kitchen and bad cooking have driven many a one from home to seek comfort and happiness somewhere else. None of our excellent girls are fit to be married until they are thoroughly educated in the deep and profound mysteries of the kitchen.—Presbyterian.

A UTICA landlord has a tenant whom he wishes to drive out of one of his houses, but she has refused to go. Accordingly he has hired seven organ-grinders to play every morning before her door, at the hour when she most wishes to sleep.

A MAN, drinking gin and molasses in Albany, the other day, accidentally swallowed a small piece of a chip from the molasses cask, which produced inflammation of the stomach and death. A sad warning to those who take molasses with their gin.

JOHN STACATTO says, that the most affecting instance of the power of music, is that presented by the troubadour mentioned in the song. He sang so sweetly that he actually "touched his guitar."

"PRAY, excuse a bit of sarcasm," said Smith to Jones, "but you are an infamous liar and a scoundrel." "Pray, pardon a touch of irony," replied Jones, as he knocked him down with a poker.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

A melancholy occurence took place about ten days since in Lock Haven, the result of fast driving in violation of the town ordinances. We append some particulars from the Clinton Republican:

Dr. H. A. Lichtenthaler has a passion for fast horses, and owns the fleetest trotter in the county. Like most men who indulge this passion, he has not always been discreet in the choice of ground for displaying or testing the speed of his horses, but has frequently used the streets of the borough for that purpose. He had procured a skeleton buggy, a light and fairy-like vehicle that moved over the ground so noiselessly that one would have to listen sharply to hear it a rod distant, when drawn at the rate of a mile in three minutes. On Saturday evening about half past eight o'clock with his trotting horse attached to this airy vehicle, the Doctor drove down Main street, as those who saw him say, at the utmost speed of the horse.

As he came rushing along opposite Berger's Saloon, Mrs. Mary Anthony, wife of Adam Anthony, in company with Mrs. Sarah Barnes, a widow lady, had just stepped from the pavement at J. F. Lindig's corner on to the crossing at that place. The noise made by the vehicle was scarcely greater than that of the passing crowds on the pavements, and the ladies did not observe its approach until it struck them.—They were both thrown with great violence to the ground, Mrs. Anthony being lifted from her feet and cast a rod or more down the street. She was picked up insensible and borne to her home on Clinton Avenue where she lived only three hours. An inquest was held upon the body on Sunday, and a post mortem examination on Monday by the Corner, assisted by Dr. Priesen, disclosed a fracture of the skull two or three inches in diameter, just back of the left ear, and severe congestion on the right side of the anterior portion of the brain, where a large handful of coagulated blood was deposited. It is supposed the horse was in the act of rearing at the time of the collision and the shaft struck Mrs. Anthony on the back of the head producing the fracture. She leaves a husband and little daughter about six years of age to mourn her sad and untimely fate.

Mrs. Barnes suffered a fracture of the left clavicle and a number of more or less severe contusions on the head and elsewhere over her body. She was tenderly removed to her home where the skillful treatment of her physician and careful nursing have relieved her case of all dangerous symptoms.

Both as a warning to others, and in vindication of the general character of Dr. Lichtenthaler for humanity and discretion, we can not omit to mention that liquor alone is responsible for this most distressing and calamitous event, as well for the horrid blasphemy and savage spirit manifested by the principal actor in the presence of the mangled victim of his drunken frenzy, and her grief-stricken friends.

The Doctor was arrested on Saturday night but was released on bail. He was before the Court on Monday morning and entered bail to await the action of the Grand Jury. The case will probably not be tried till next term of Court.

FAILURE, AND FRAUD IN NEW YORK.—Wall street was not a little excited on the 17th by rumors of the failure of one of the largest houses in the city, that of Schepler & Co., of No. 52 Exchange place. It was generally known that the firm had been largely engaged in gold speculation, but the general supposition was, that the late rise in gold had materially benefitted them, whereas, it was to that very rise that their failure is attributable. It appears that Schepler & Co., have for a long time been largely engaged in gold speculation, in addition to their regular business of commission merchants, and at the time of the late rise in gold, they had a contract to supply some $10,000,000 in gold to certain parties, at a specified price. As gold rose very rapidly and they were bound by their contract to supply the amount it called for, at a price some eight per cent. below market rates, their failure was only a matter of time. It is impossible to say what are the liabilities of the firm, although Wall street gossips put them down at from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000.

Mr. Aiken, of the firm of Davis & Aiken, brokers, left the city on Saturday, with bonds in his possession estimated at $120,000, obtained by fraudulent means. His partner and several brokers are the heaviest losers. It was at first reported that the City Bank had lost $60,000, by certifying checks of the firm, but the officers of the bank say that their loss is only $14,000.

It is known that Mr. Aiken bought a large number of securities on Saturday afternoon, which he paid for with certified checks.—He delivered two or three hundred shares of stock, which the firm held as collateral to other persons, obtaining checks for the same. These he had certified, and it is supposed that he passed all of them before he left the city. The most trustworthy report fixes the amount of the embezzlement at $113,000.

The house of Davis & Aiken is a new one, having been in existence about a month. Mr. Davis has always borne a good name, and is believed to have been entirely innocent in this matter. His friends express much sympathy for him.

THE State Department has completed somewhat voluminous instructions to Mr. Motley. Although their precise nature in regard to the Alabama claims has not leaked out, it is well known that Mr. Motley agrees entirely with Mr. Sumner, and that the President has read Mr. Sumner's speech, and finds no fault with it. The first business of Mr. Motley will be to negotiate a naturalization treaty upon the basis of the protocol which the Senate confirmed last winter. He is also to try and secure a consular treaty similar to that which the Government has with other countries, and which England has never yet made with the United States, owing to various causes. To secure these two points Mr. Motley will probably first devote his attention. There will be no undue pressure of the Alabama case, and probably nothing definite will be arrived at before next winter, as the difference between the two countries is so wide that there will be considerable debate and discussion before a settlement can be reached.

THE Ladoga (Ind.) Herald says: "There lives near Billville, Hendricks county, a peculiar family—three boys and three girls. The oldest girl is about twenty-four years old, weighs about 200 pounds, is a very intelligent lady, but we noticed one peculiar feature not common among the fair sex—she had a heavy beard (minus the moustache,) which is about two inches long, and of auburn color. The beard on the chin of this lady is the heaviest. We did not perceive any on her throat, nothing but regular side and chin whiskers. We were informed that her beard has grown more rapidly during the past year. The next girl is seventeen years old, born blind, and is an idiot; the next is a girl, fourteen, born blind. The three boys are all intelligent young men. The father of this family is one of the wealthiest men in Hendricks county."

THE Illinois Legislature has passed a very stringent law for the management of drunkards. It classes them with idiots and insane persons, and gives their persons and property to the charge of guardians or Overseers of the Poor. When any one has been declared insane or a drunkard, and a guardian has been appointed, the arrangement must exist for at least one year, except the guardian is previously removed for misconduct.

THE GETTYSBURG RAILROAD.

Last week we referred to the Railroad movements in Maryland, especially that looking to an early completion of the Western Maryland Railroad, and the value of the franchises of the Gettysburg Railroad Company, as a ready means of securing a through and direct route from New York, via Easton, Columbia, &c., to the coal fields of Maryland and the valley of the Shenandoah. Frequent inquiries are made as to the precise status of the proceedings now pending in the Supreme Court, looking to a sale of our road.—We do not propose to go into the details of the past difficulties of the Company. It is sufficient to say that the stock subscriptions of about $125,000 were sunk in expenses incident to the grading of the road, and that Mortgage Bonds to the amount of $200,000 were issued to build the superstructure, and put the road in working order.—Of these bonds, about $85,000 were sold, mostly to our own citizens, prior to June 4, 1862, and of the residue, one hundred and twelve thousand dollars, with all the coupons attached, were, in 1856, 1858 and 1859, deposited on a margin of about sixty cents on the dollar as collateral security for loans made on the notes of the Gettysburg Railroad Company—the larger portion of these hypothecated bonds being held by Johns Hopkins, of Baltimore. On the 4th of June, 1862, the company owed $65,886, on notes held by Johns Hopkins and others, for which bonds to the amount of $112,000, with all the coupons attached, had been hypothecated as collateral security. The road was put in sequestration some years ago, by decree of the Court of Common Pleas of Adams county, on the suit of John H. McClellan, and Baldwin & Co., judgment creditors.—Since thence, there have been repeated distributions of the funds in the hands of the Sequestrator, arising from the profits of the road, that distributed on the hypothecated bonds being appropriated to the payment of accrued interest on the notes, and the surplus to the reduction of the principal. We do not know the precise amount yet due on these notes, but presume it is somewhere about $55,000 or $60,000.

Besides this indebtness, there are several judgments against the Company in favor of J. H. McClellan, Baldwin & Co., Robert McCurdy, and others, amounting to over $20,000 not secured by bonds. This would make the entire debtedness, in round numbers, about $170,000—Bonds sold $85,000; balance on Notes, for which bonds were hypothecated, say $60,000; and Judgments $25,000.

Several years ago, Messrs. Maltby & Northrup, of New Haven, and Mr. Case, of Columbia, secured an assignment of a majority of the stock, whereby they to-day control the franchises of the Company, subject to the rights of the Sequestrator. Most of this stock was assigned gratuitously with the understanding on the part of the assignors that the assignees were to take charge of the road, pay the debts, lift the hypothecated bonds, and extend the road. It is proper to say, however, that Messrs. Maltby, Northrup & Case deny that there were any such conditions imposed.

Subsequently Mr. Maltby secured the hypothecated bonds originally held by Johns Hopkins and others, by paying the notes for which they had been deposited as collateral securities, and now claims to hold these bonds absolutely and not as collaterals. The bona fide bond-holders and judgment creditors, on the other hand, claim that they hold them simply as collaterals, and in any distribution of proceeds of the sale of the road, if decreed by the Supreme Court, can only take the amount of the notes and accrued interest, and not the full amount of the bonds. This is one of the questions to be determined in the proceedings now pending in the Supreme Court. In these proceedings George Swope, Trustee of the Gettysburg Railroad Company, and Caleb S. Maltby, are Plaintiffs, and the Gettysburg Railroad Company, John Johns, John H. McClellan, Matthew Baird, surviving partner of the firm of M. W. Baldwin & Co., The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Co., Robert McCurdy, Elias Johns, Adm'r of John Johns, dec'd, William Douglass, and Robert McCurdy, Frederick Diehl, George Throne, David Wills, Abraham Krise, John Musselman, Joseph Bayly, Josiah Benner, Joseph W. Hendrix, David M. Myers, John Gilbert, and George W. McClellan, are Defendants.

The defendants, in their answer to the amended bill of complaint of the plaintiffs, make these points:

1. That, before any decree be made against said Gettysburg Railroad Company, an account be taken to ascertain how much money remains due and owing by said company of the debts or notes originally secured by said bonds as collaterals.
2. That said Caleb S. Maltby be enjoined from claiming from said company, or from said sequestrator, or out of the proceeds of the sale, in case a sale of said road be decreed, more than the balance so found due upon said original indebtedness and interest thereon.
3. That, upon payment to said Caleb S. Maltby of the balance of the debt and interest originally secured by a pledge of said bonds, he be decreed to deliver up the same to said Robert McCurdy, the sequestrator of said company.

The argument in the Supreme Court will not be reached for several months—the case not being yet fully at issue.

WE have alluded elsewhere to the acceptance of Colored Suffrage by the Democracy of Virginia. We hear of a like movement among the Democrats of Maryland, and it is not deemed improbable that, by December next, the party in that State will have effected a decided change of front.

Sagacious leaders argue that the XVth Amendment will surely be ratified whether Maryland be favorable or adverse. Those who are looking to the future prefer not to "butt out their brains against that stone wall." Those who look only to the past, will persist in butting, but then their brains are out.

IT appears to be understood that President GRANT will attend the grand Peace Jubilee in Boston, July 4th. It was hoped he would be able to be present in Gettysburg at the dedication ceremonies. It is announced that Senator MORTON'S Oration will be, on the progress of liberty in the world during the past ten years. This is an inspiring theme; but it is sad to know that so many thousands in this country have had, and have, no sympathy with it.

GRANT is collecting more of the revenue than ever before. Hence, all the Whisky thieves abuse him; and their newspaper organs overflow with hate.

THE DEMOCRACY "CAVING IN."

GILBERT C. WALKER, who has been adopted by the Rebel Democracy of Virginia, as their candidate for Governor, declared in his [illegible] speech on the 15th inst., that he was in favor of "UNIVERSAL AMNESTY AND IMPARTIAL SUFFRAGE."

"Impartial Suffrage" he defined to mean an equal right of Suffrage for the white and the black man.

The Northern wing of the Democracy are preparing to "cave." The Chicago Times—the great Democratic organ in the North-west—last week treated the question thus:

"The question of negro suffrage may perhaps be regarded as a dead issue. Democrats do not believe in what is called 'human equality,' as the doctrine is taught by Radicals of the present day in this country, but they do believe in obedience to the constitution, and if the Fifteenth Amendment shall be ratified by the requisite number of States, the Democracy will make no factious opposition to its enforcement."

This extract establishes two propositions:

First. That the Democracy of the present day do not believe in the theory of the Declaration of Independence or of Thomas Jefferson, its author, as to human rights. In other words, it is a confession that they have departed from the "old landmarks," and have become a party of class, caste, and aristocratic ideas. This has been long apparent, but its frank avowal by a leading newspaper must convince the most sceptical that the principles of Slavery have thoroughly debauched and corrupted the Democratic party, and have rendered it no longer safe to trust it with the control of the country.

Second. The article proclaims that the discretion of the Democracy will be more than equal to their valor; and that when Universal Suffrage shall be established they will try to get as many colored voters for their ticket as can be bribed, bullied, or humbugged to act with them!

We think we can already see, in imagination, how lovingly Copperhead politicians will lead their colored comrades to the polls.

It will be, at first, awkward for the Democracy of Adams; but then, when the party is to be served by any sacrifice of principle, have they not always been in haste to sacrifice it? And can't they be again trusted to go down deep and come up dirty, as they loved to do in old Slavery times?

WHILE many of the soldiers who fought in the Rebel armies cheerfully "accept the situation," and manifest an earnest purpose to abide the logical sequences of the War, by supporting the Congressional policy of reconstruction, the politicians who precipitated the Rebellion continue either blatant Rebels or sullenly yield to the new order of things. It is with this latter class, the long recognized political leaders and a controling element in Southern politics, that originate most of the difficulties that bar the work of reconciliation and restoration. The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune in a recent letter, confirms this view, and says that a legal gentleman of that city, who has recently been to Georgia on business, and while there was in close professional relations with Toombs, Stephens, Ben Hill, and other Rebel leaders, declares that these men, and the great body of the whites, are, so far as Georgia is concerned, more bitterly hostile toward the Government and loyal States than ever, if that be possible. The spirit of violence reigns supreme, though now manifesting itself entirely in acts such as the recent assassinations, and not in mobs and riots, as was the case last Fall. So bitter is this hostile spirit that the gentleman referred to, who was till recently a high legal officer of the Government, believes that, in the event of a foreign war, a large majority of the Georgia whites would not hesitate to join the enemy, if there should be an attempt to invade the country. He regards the feeling as one of bitter, blind, implacable hatred to the Republic, which would not stop at any means to gratify itself. Most of the pro-Rebel leaders believe that in some form they will yet secure the substance if not the name of Slavery, and with this hope are holding on to their lands. Many are purchasing largely. Ben Hill is reported to have recently bought a tract of 5,000 acres in South-west Georgia.

COPPERHEAD papers are howling over the manner in which the XVth Amendment was declared ratified by the legislature of Indiana.

The Copperhead members resigned to break up a quorum in the House.—The House went on, and voted, and a majority of those remaining having voted for the Amendment, it was declared ratified. Cops. say this was unconstitutional. But that is a matter of opinion. The question in issue is, what is a quorum in the House? They assert that the presence of two-thirds of all elected, is necessary; whereas, the Constitution of Indiana says that "two-thirds of each house shall be a quorum"—not two-thirds of all elected, but two-thirds of the body. Who compose the body? Those in full membership.—The resigning members cannot be counted, and the adhering members constitute the House. This is plain, and sensible. Otherwise, one-third could always coerce the two-thirds, by resigning, breaking up a "quorum," and suspending business. This would be against all American precedent, has no basis in parliamentary law anywhere, and is not in accordance with the terms of the Constitution of Indiana.

The Republicans met the emergency with pluck and courage, and deserve praise for the skill with which they have foiled this mean, cowardly and characteristic attempt at Rebellion, in the interest of a dead Rebellion, and by its most trusty allies—the worn and whipped Copperheads of Indiana.

THE colored citizens will all be voters before the general election of 1870. The thing for the Democratic party to do, is to lay siege to the hearts of the negroes and capture as many of their votes as possible. They will have no scruples of conscience in proclaiming that they "always were the negro's best friends;" and in explaining to them that "Democracy" means equal rights; and that a Democrat is correctly defined by Noah Webster as "one who favors the extension of the right of suffrage to all classes of men."—That is their card to play, and they will play it. Look out for the shuffling.

IN our issue of the 14th inst., we announced, on the authority of a Philadelphia paper, that Hon. DANIEL M. SMYSER had been appointed an additional Law Judge for the Montgomery district. The Norristown Republican says that, although a telegram to that effect appeared in the city papers, it is a mistake—that Mr. SMYSER was not an applicant for the position, and knows nothing about the matter.

GERMAN UNITY AND POWER.

If the report that the late German elections have resulted in favor of the union of northern and southern Germany is true, Napoleon has received a checkmate that he cannot contend against, and Germany is the great Power of the European continent.—The idea was Bismarck's, and he has pursued it with a zeal that never faltered, against a thousand obstacles.—This idea is a thorough nationalization of the Teutonic peoples. It is not completed by the union carried in the elections, but it is so grandly advanced thereby that the leading spirit can move more boldly and hopefully to what remains. When completed, if the work follows the Minister's programme, Prussia will become the controller of a compact German kingdom; and that kingdom, stretching from the Adriatic to the Baltic and North Seas, from France to Russia, from Turkey to the Rhine, must, by its geographical position, its population, wealth, knowledge and valor, be the arbiter of Europe. The current elections do not, indeed, sweep in so broad a result as this instantly; but this is their natural sequence, and it is a just fear of this that has led Napoleon to do what he could to prevent the consummation.—There is hardly any, if any, great movement of so much political significance. The British and French elections have no comparable value, and even the Spanish agitation is dwarfed by the possible results that may flow to Europe and the world from a consolidated German nationality.—Phila. North American.

COPPERHEAD journals circulate the falsehood that GRANT is filling the public offices with his relatives. This is untrue. He has appointed numerous personal friends, in whose integrity he could fully confide; but he has not lavished favors upon his relatives.—But if he had done so, he would have followed good Democratic precedent, as witness the following detailed crushing statement from the N. Y. Post:

The city of government of New York, which is and has long been in democratic hands, abounds with not only brothers-in-law and cousins, but also fathers-in-law, brothers, sons and other relatives. For instance—and we have room and time to-day to mention only a few instances—Mr. Peter B. Sweeney is City Chamberlain; his brother, Mr. James M. Sweeney, is a clerk of the Superior Court; another of Mr. Sweeney's brothers holds office in the City Chamberlain's office; another relative of Mr. Sweeney has a place in the Auditor's office; and another, we are told, is a commissioner of Riverside Park.

Mr. Richard B. Connolly is Comptroller; his son, J. Townsend Connolly, has the berth of first auditor in the Comptroller's office; two relatives of Mr. Connolly are clerks in Police Courts; Mr. Robert C. Hutchings, son-in-law of Mr. Connolly, is Assistant District Attorney.

Mr. Henry Starkweather, father-in-law of Governor Hoffman, enjoys the comfortable place of Collector of Assessments and Receiver in the Church street extension; the Governor's brother-in-law, Mr. Charles O. Joline, is chief clerk in the Mayor's office; and a nephew of the Governor, Mr. Philip J. Hoffman, is a clerk in the License Bureau.

Mr. William M. Tweed serves the city in the double capacity of supervisor and state senator. Not content with this plurality of places for himself, Mr. Tweed has a son holding the offices of Assistant District Attorney and receiver of the Pacific Railroad; another son of Mr. Tweed is not only Commissioner of Riverside Park, but engineer on the Governor's staff.

Mr. Matthew T. Brennan was Comptroller, and is now Police Commissioner. One of his brothers, Owen W. Brennan, is a Commissioner of Charities and Corrections; another brother, Timothy W. Brennan, held a place in the Comptroller's office under his brother, and has lately been made School Commissioner. A son-in-law of Mr. Brennan is clerk to the Board of Assistant Aldermen; and Mr. Brennan's father-in-law is a messenger in the Surrogate's office. One son is a clerk to one of the boards; another is Inspector of Streets; and yet another holds a clerkship in one of the City Hall offices. Finally, a gentleman who had the good luck to marry a sister-in-law of Mr. Brennan is reported to hold a comfortable place.

Mr. TWEED started for Europe, last Saturday, to rest from the fatigue of holding his two offices.

WILLIAM QUANTRILL, the Kansas Border-Ruffian who sacked the city of Lawrence during the Rebellion, and for whose arrest large rewards are still out, is supposed to be living, though twice reported dead.

He was the son of Thomas Quantrill of Canal Dover, Ohio. The father was born in Hagerstown, Maryland, and emigrated to Ohio. The father died when William was eighteen years old, and having lost his control (for he was a good citizen and father) William passed the next two years of his life in indolence and loafing, with such associates as may be found in all villages: with a good education, sprightly and intelligent, he only needed a proper direction of his energies, to have made a respectable and useful citizen. He went to Kansas in 1857, a pro-Slavery Democrat, and has been gradually declining, though on the same plane, ever since.

ONE of the largest gamblers in England is a member of the House of Commons. He is a fine speaker and made a decided sensation when he delivered his maiden speech, recently. His name is CHAPLIN, and his connection with the late unfortunate Marquis of HASTINGS, gave him much of his money and fame. It is no disgrace in England to make a profession of gambling, to spend one's whole time in its pursuits, to win or lose fortunes by it, provided it be of a fashionable character—done in the English style, and not in the French or German. The English were shocked to hear that a keeper of a hell had been elected member of Congress, but they are not troubled in the least if a member of Parliament carries about his hell in his coat pocket.

THE General Assemblies of the Old and New School branches of the Presbyterian Church are now in session in New York City. Much interest attaches to the present meeting of these two large and influential bodies, in view of the probability of some definite action on the propositions to bring about a re-union and consolidation of the churches they represent. The basis of union agreed on by the Committee of Conference last year was sent down to the various Presbyteries, many of which adopted it without qualification, but a still larger number, especially of the Old School wing, affixing conditions which will require further action. On Monday last both Assemblies met together for prayer, the moderators of both being present and sitting side by side.

THE Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of Pennsylvania, met in the House of Representatives at Harrisburg, last week, and elected the following officers:—Grand Master, Samuel F. Gwinner; Deputy Grand Master, John B. Springer; Grand Warden, Alfred Slack; Secretary, Jas. B. Nicholson; Grand Treasurer, M. Richards Muckle; and Representative to the Grand Lodge of the United States, J. Alexander Simpson.

"THE SHIFTLESS NIGGER."—A correspondent of the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser, writing from Savannah, Ga., says:

[illegible] thousand colored persons in [illegible] at the present time on deposit with the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company and its twenty-[illegible] branches in the Southern States, $1,[illegible]. The average to each is $76 70.—During the month of March last the gain in deposits was nearly $74,000. Much of this gain was from new depositors. From my own knowledge and experience in this line, in one of the principal cities of the South, I can confidently express the opinion that were all the colored people in the South who have money—gold, silver, and currency—buried in the ground, and stowed away in their houses, to deposit it at once in the Freedman's Savings Bank, the number of depositors would be at least 250,000, and the deposits, at the average now existing, would reach nearly twenty millions of dollars.

We clip another paragraph:

At the monthly meeting of the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company, on the 14th inst., it appeared that there was on deposit $1,178,644,97. The assets of the company are exclusively in stocks and bonds of the United States, or in cash. These assets amount to $1,214,185 81, among which are $805,000 in Pacific Railroad bonds. Within the last two months the increase in deposits has been over $100,000, and the number of depositors about 15,000. The progress of this valuable institution is its own commendation.

If the colored people of the South were "shiftless," it would not lie in the mouths of their late masters or their allies, to utter the biting taunt; since it was their system, their legislation, and their brutal ideas which wickedly kept from four millions of human beings every means of education, and which remorselessly bound them to the most debasing and hopeless toil.

THE late Legislature (Democratic) of Ohio cost the State $250,500, whereas its predecessor (Republican) cost but $118,824. The former also raised the rate of interest to 8 per cent.

IN the suit by Cyrus H. McCormick, in the Supreme Court Circuit, before Judge Sutherland, New York, to recover damages from the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company, for the alleged conversion of baggage, the jury has awarded the plaintiff a verdict for $10,660.61. Mr. McCormick was on his way from Washington to Chicago with his family, and at the baggage room of the company's office in Philadelphia asked for checks for five trunks. Being told that he must first get tickets, he went to buy them, the trunks at the same time being placed in the baggage car. On presenting the tickets, Mr. McCormick was told that he must pay $7.50 as extra freight for the baggage. This he refused to do. He demanded his trunks, but was told that it was too late, and the baggage was taken and consumed in the depot at Chicago, which was fired by lightning two days afterwards. The court charged the jury that the company was liable for the value of the baggage, and left only for them to say what was the value of the trunks and their contents.

CROP PROSPECTS AT THE WEST.—A Chicago despatch a few days ago stated that the crop accounts from all sections of the West were highly favorable. The Illinois State Journal, published at Springfield, says that for many years the crop prospects at this period of the season have not been so favorable as at the present time. Last fall the weather was exceedingly favorable for planting wheat. Crops were put in early, and owing to the lateness of the season, the plants obtained a vigorous groth before cold weather set in. This saved the crop from the usual mishaps of winter, and complaints of "freezing out" have consequently been rare. The late spring has also been favorable, the cold, wet weather preventing a too rapid growth. Notwithstanding the spring has been late, the famers have been able to make good progress in getting in grain and potatoes and making ready for corn, and corn planting will probably be completed by the middle of May, whereas last year it was not finished till June.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.—General Dodge, Engineer of the Union Pacific Railroad, writes from Omaha that their road to Promontory Point is now being run on a time table that is not excelled by any line of the same length east of Omaha, either in time made, promptness of connection, or excellence in cars and eating houses. He reports that the company now have freight cars and engines enough to move double the freight now offering. The passenger traffic continues heavy both ways, and far exceeds their anticipations. Owing to some cuts that are being widened, and some temporary bridges which are being replaced by stone masonry, they will not present their road as fully completed, ready for the final examination, before August next.

THE leading Consular Agent of the United States at Cuba arrived at Washington on Saturday, and after filing despatches at the State Department, giving accounts of the condition of affairs in Cuba, proceeded to the White House, and had an interview with the President. He gives it as his opinion, after careful inquiry and observation, that the insurgents cannot be subdued if they pursue their present tactics, which is to avoid regular battle, and worry the Spaniards by compelling them to follow them from place to place. He says the Cubans are still looking to the United States for aid, though they have been told again and again that our Government cannot interfere.

A BILL contracted by Secretary Seward in telegraphing over the cable to Reverdy Johnson has been presented to Secretary Fish by the agent of the Telegraph Company for payment. It consists of a single item and amounts to $40,000. Mr. Seward, it seems, was allowed cheap rates on his messages, and so became rather verbose.—When this bill came in he refused to pay it. It therefore fell to the succeeding Administration; Secretary Fish declined to pay it, and when it was presented to President Grant he sent it to Attorney General Hoar for an opinion, which he is now engaged on.

THE President has settled the eight-hour law question by issuing a proclamation declaratory of the effect of the law of Congress upon wages of Government employees, which is simply that the law makes eight hours a day's work instead of ten, without affecting the rate of wages. This declaration of the effect of the law has been rendered necessary in order to secure a harmonious construction by the different Departments. Some were construing it in one way and some in another, and even different Bureaus in the same Department construed it differently.

THE Secretary of the Treasury is engaged in revising the list of national banks designated as Government depositories in the several States. He proposes to cut them down at least one-half, as there is now no longer any necessity for the number of them at present in existence. He will place one in each Congressional district, except where the districts happen to be in cities or bordering upon cities. Each city is to have two banks designated as Government depositories. In the large cities, like Boston, New York and Philadelphia, this is to be additional to the Sub-Treasury of the United States.

THE Secretary of the Treasury is constantly receiving letters from persons who have lost bonds by sea, fire or other destructive elements, asking that new ones be issued to take their place. To all such he replies that the Department has no authority to do so, and they must seek relief from Congress.

V. Institutes. The game lasted three hours and was called at the expiration of the fifth inning, when the score stood: Continentals twenty-three runs, C. V. Institutes nine runs. Five fly-catches the C. V. I's, the Continentals none.—On Tuesday evening, the 18th instant, a fracas occured in Shippensburg between Chief Burgess Hykes and Robert Mateer. The latter was seriously wounded by three balls fired into him from a pistol in the hands of Hykes.—The contract for furnishing Carlisle Barracks with fresh beef was awarded to John Noble, Esq., at 14 cents per pound.—The extensive warehouse belonging to Mr. John H. Crisswell, in Shippensburg, was burned to the ground at noon on the 18th inst. It was in the occupancy of Messrs. Morrow & Flickinger, and we are informed that they lost grain and other articles to a considerable amount.—J. T. Zug has been appointed Internal Revenue Gauger for the 15th District.—The trial of Dr. Paul Schoeppe, charged with the poisoning of Miss Stenecke, is in progress at Carlisle.

CARROLL.—Dr. B. Mills, of Westminster, did on the 19th inst.—Wm. Johnson, colored, convicted of assaulting Henry Hawk with intent to kill, at New Windsor, last December, has been sentenced to the Penitentiary for 12 years.—A lad named Hiram Megecher, aged 12 years, was killed on the Washington road, about 2½ miles from Westminster, on the 17th inst. He was riding in a wagon with a son of John Wagoner, aged about 15 years. The latter requested Megecher to draw the rubbers, the lever for that purpose being on the side of the wagon. After driving on about 200 yards Wagoner missed his companion, and on looking back saw him lying on the road at the spot where he had requested him to draw the rubbers. Hastening to him, he was found already dead, with the left side of his head crushed, the wheel of the wagon having probably run over it.—Isaac E. Pearson, jr., has been appointed Internal Revenue Collector for Carroll county.

FRANKLIN.—The following candidates for Republican nominations are announced: for Prothonotary, William H. McDowell, John A. Hyssong and John H. McMullen; Register and Recorder, Henry S. Shade and Harry C. Greenawalt; County Treasurer, Jacob N. Flinder, Samuel Knisely and Reuben Lewis; for Clerk of the Courts, Thad. M. Mahon, John X. Smith and Lew. W. Detrich. Democratic candidates announced, are: for Prothonotary, Geo. W. Welsh; Register and Recorder, H. T. Snyder and J. Cook; County Treasurer, Wm. Reber, Benj. M. Powell, and T. O. French; Clerk of the Courts, M. D. Reymer and B. A. Cormany.—The store room at Brown's Mills, formerly occupied by Andrew Dalrymple, the absconding postmaster, was destroyed by fire on the night of the 14th inst. It is supposed to have been fired by an incendiary.

FREDERICK.—George Truman, colored, will be hanged at Frederick, to-day, for the crime of murder.—E. T. Gernand has been appointed Postmaster at Graceham, Md., and Jacob M. Wachter Postmaster at Woodsboro', Md.

WASHINGTON.—Mrs. Sarah Heller, of Clearspring, Md., has conveyed by deed to the Clearspring charge the large dwelling and lot adjoining the Reformed church in that place to be used as a parsonage. It is valued at $3,000, and is subject to an annuity of $120 for a terms of years, or during the lifetime of the doner, if she needs it.—The Cumberland Valley Railroad Company have at length determined to extend their road from Hagerstown to Williamsport, on the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, and during the past week have been arranging and paying the damages on rights of way.

YORK.—325 shares of the Wrightsville, York and Gettysburg railroad stock were sold at the Philadelphia Exchange, on the 18th inst., for $17.50 per share.—A son of John Heckert, York, aged 5 years, fell from a chair one day last week, and broke his arm.—Enoch Thompson, one of the Baltimore defenders in 1814, died in Dover township last week, aged 76 years.—The corner stone of the new church of the United Brethren in Christ, in York, was laid last Sunday.—A new barn of Wm. Potts, near Lewisburg, nearly finished, was blown down and demolished during a storm on Sunday week.—Wm. H. Stair took charge of the Hanover Post office on Monday, and appointed Mahlon H. Nail Assistant.—P. H. Bittinger, of Hanover, has been appointed Assistant Assessor of Internal Revenue taxes.—Hon. Jerry S. Black, of York, was seriously injured on Monday last, on the Louisville and Nashville train, twenty miles from Louisville, Ky. A freight car by some mischance ran against the passenger car and struck his elbow, which protruded from the window. The arm was badly crushed, but he received no other injury. Surgeons were telegraphed for and went to his aid. His wife accompanied him.

THE United States Supreme Court has directed the issuing of a writ of mandamus, restoring Joseph H. Bradley to the office of attorney and counselor in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. It will be remembered that he was expelled by Justice Fisher for misdemeanors during the Surratt trial, and that the Justice was sustained by the Supreme Court of the District. The decision of the United States Supreme Court reverses that of the lower tribunal.

THE Ku-Klux and Ex-Rebs in Georgia stand in need of wholesome government discipline. Within the past few weeks murders of Union men, white and colored, have been committed every day in different parts of the State. These assassins should be promptly arrested, at all cost, and summarily hung. The people will sustain the President in making short work of these scoundrels. It is high time we have "peace" and "security" down South.

THE new candidate for the Spanish throne who has been brought forward, Prince Augustus of Portugal, is a brother of the present King of Portugal, and the youngest son of Don Fernando, who recently declined the throne. Prince Augustus is twenty-two years old, and a marriage between him and a daughter of the Duke of Montpensier, it is thought, may satisfy both the partisans of the latter and those who prefer a Portuguese prince.

SECRETARY BOUTWELL'S policy of selling a million of dollars of gold a week and buying a million of government bonds per week to cancel, is working admirably. It has raised the national credit and run up the price of bonds two and three per cent. As the million of gold will bring about $200,000 more than the million of bonds will cost, he has that amount over for the benefit of the Treasury—so that it is a paying transaction all round.

THE President has appointed J. W. Mason, (colored) of Arkansas, as a Judge of the Sierra Leone Court of Arbitration under the Slave Trade Treaty. Mr. Mason was born a slave. He is a man of education, having graduated at the University of Paris.

A CHILD SHOOTS HER SISTER—AFFECTING INCIDENT.

A shocking tragedy, the result of which has plunged a happy household into the very depths of unutterable woe, occurred in this city on Sunday morning last. It appears that Nellie and Frank [illegible], daughters of D. J. D[illegible], residing on Camanche avenue, aged respectively nine and fifteen years, were up stairs dressing to attend the Methodist Episcopal Sabbath School. Frank, the elder sister, took a large pistol from a box on the window-sill, turned to look out of the window, and, by some means, discharged the piece, the bullet taking effect in Nellie's head about two and a half inches over the left temple, passing obliquely toward the right eye, and lodging on the parietal bone. The accident occured at about a quarter past 10 o'clock. Physicians were immediately sent for, but of course the skill of surgery could avail little in such a desperate extremity. Blood came from the child's nose; she also swallowed some blood and vomited it up again, while two or three teaspoonsful of brain have exuded from the orifice. How the child escaped from instant death is a wonder. She has however, been conscious from the first, and has been able to answer all questions, although, as physicians express it, in a semi-comitose state. Seeing her sister in tears, she told her lovingly, not to feel bad—that if she should die and go to Heaven she would ask God to let her come there too. On Monday, as Dr. Cogswell was about leaving her bedside, he asked her, "Is there anything I can do for you?" "Yes," replied Nellie, with childish confidence," "you can hear me say my prayers." It was a touching scene, as the little girl, apparently on the verge of life, took the Doctor's hand and in a low but distinct voice repeated the words, "Our Father who art in heaven," &c. She is spoken of as an unusually bright and intelligent child, of a gentle and amiable disposition, and the cherished idol of the household. At noon she was still alive and doing well, though the chances of her recovery are extremely doubtful.

STATE SUNDAY-SCHOOL CONVENTION.—The Annual Convention will be held at Williamsport, Pennsylvania, beginning on Tuesday, June 1st at ten o'clock, A. M.

Arrangements have been made on a liberal scale, to make this the best Sunday-school Convention yet held in Pennsylvania.

Sunday-school teachers and superintendents, and clergymen interested in the work, are cordially invited to be present, from all parts of the State.

Each Sunday-school is requested to send one or more delegates.

In order to secure entertainment, delegates will please notify the committee at Williamsport, of their intention to attend the Convention. Address as early as possible,

A. UPDEGRAFF, Esq.,
Williamsport, Pa.

Ministers and superintendents throughout the State, and newspapers generally, are requested to give publicity to the fact that a cordial invitation is extended to all Sunday-school workers who can attend this Convention.

The prominent Railroad Companies have agreed to make the customary reduction to delegates who pass over their roads.

☞ Peters' Musical Monthly for May is to hand, and well sustains the title it bears—"The prince of Musical Monthlies." The May number comes to us overflowing with choice new Music. There are four New Songs, by Hays, Thomas, Danks, and Eaton; three Piano Pieces; and we notice a new feature in the shape of six pages of Quartet Music, which will prove a valuable addition; also, a dozen or more pages of Biographical Sketches and Reviews of New Music, that will be of interest to all Musicians. Being largely engaged in the publication of Sheet Music, Mr. Peters has always a fresh stock from which to make his selections, and seems nothing loth to draw from his resources to any required extent to make the Monthly what it should be. Besides the Musical Sketches and Reviews of New Music, each number contains no less than thirty full-sized pages of New Music by the best writers in the country. When Music is furnished so cheap, what Musician can afford to be without such a publication? $4 worth of good Music cannot be picked up every day for 30 cents, and we feel justified in saying that a subscription at $3 will give as much Music (and good Music, too,) as you can buy for $50. Published by J. L. PETERS, 198 Broadway, New York, (P. O. Box 5429.)

WHERE DO YOU PUT UP AT?—Often you go to town just for a day and want some place where you may leave your "bag" while you are running around, and where you may appoint to meet with your friends and others with whom you may have business. Messrs. Wanamaker & Brown invite you to "put up" with them. Leave your baggage in charge of the clerks at the "delivery counter" and make yourself perfectly at home in any part of their great house. If you find it to your advantage to make any purchases, well and good, if not you will be welcome all the same. It

ARE HOOP SKIRTS FASHIONABLE?—They certainly are. And the Ladies know that to be well dressed, Hoop-Skirts are necessary. The best stock to select from is at Duphorn's store, N. W. Corner Square. tf

All kinds of Men's and Boy's wear; Straw Hats, Leghorn Hats, Panama Hats, and Light Fur and Wool Hats in endless variety and cheap. Also Summer Clothing of all kinds and cut in the Latest Style. Young Gents wanting a Fashionable Suit made in the latest style and good material, can save 25 per cent by getting it at Norris' store, Arnold's old corner. tf

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED, BOUND IN THREE VOLUMES.—We have received from the publishers, G. & C. Merriam, Springfield, Mass., a copy of their recent revised edition of Webster's Quarto Dictionary. This recent edition contains the latest improvements on the original work, embodying the results of the assiduous and intelligent labors of a large corps of scholars in the various departments of learning. It is certain that few works, evincing such thorough and accurate editorial supervision, have ever appeared from the American press.—N. Y. Tribune. It

SUCCESS NO SECRET.

Certainly WM. BLAIR & SON'S Wholesale business must be done in a way to suit the trade, as their business with storekeepers is steadily increasing. They sell the best goods in large or small quantities at city wholesale prices, for the cash, no outside costs and warrant everything they sell. They are headquarters for Fish, Salt, Coal Oil and Fish Oil, Sugars, Coffees, Teas, Molasses, Queensware, Cedarware, Glassware, Stoneware, Cordage, Brushes and everything used in the line of goods that a storekeeper may want. MANHOOD.—IN THE YOUNG AND RISING generation, the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence? It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which Nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged.—The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular system, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this Medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears.—The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth or Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur, it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences. HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU. There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the surgeon and patient, and this is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint, and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver, and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe, a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall-bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care), that will unlock the gall-bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills, or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord.—No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease, and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompanying each, make it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless the patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed.—He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists.

A GREAT REMEDY

THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.
Dr. Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial.

It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree, obtained by a peculiar progress in the distillation of the tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained.

It is the only safeguard and reliable remedy which has ever been prepared from the juice of the Pine Tree.

It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite.

It strengthens the debilitated system.

It purifies and enriches the blood, and expels from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds on the lungs.

It dissolves the mucus or phlegm which stops the air-passages of the lungs.

Its healing principle acts upon the irritated surface of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain and subduing inflammation.

It is the result of years of study and experiment, and it is offered to the afflicted, with the positive assurance of its power to cure the following diseases, if the patient has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure:—

Consumption of the Lungs, Cough, Sore Throat and Breast, Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Blind and Bleeding Piles, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Diptheria, &c.

We are often asked why are not other remedies in the market for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, and other Pulmonary affections equal to Dr. L. Q. Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial. We answer—

1st. It cures, not by stopping cough, but by loosening and assisting nature to throw off the unhealthy matter collected about the throat and bronchial tubes, causing irritation and cough.

2nd. Most Throat and Lung Remedies are composed of anodynes, which allay the cough for awhile, but by their constringing effects, the fibres become hardened, and the unhealthy fluids coagulate and are retained in the system, causing disease beyond the control of our most eminent physicians.

3rd. The Pine Tree Tar Cordial, with its assistants, are preferable, because they remove the cause of irritation of the mucous membrane and bronchial tubes, assist the lungs to act and throw off the unhealthy secretions, and purify the blood, thus scientifically making the cure perfect.

Dr. Wishart has on file at his office hundreds and thousands of Certificates, from Men and Women of unquestionable character who were once hopelessly given up to die, but through the Providence of God were completely restored to health by the Pine Tree Tar Cordial. A Physician in attendance who can be consulted in person or by mail, free of charge. Price of Pine Tree Tar Cordial $1.50 per bottle, $11 per doz. Sent by Express on receipt of price. Address, "L. Q. Gettysburg, Friday, May 28, 1869.

MISTAKE.—The colt sold by John Boyer to Dr. T. T. Tate, was $130 instead of $115, as published a few weeks ago.

☞A heavy hail storm passed over Littlestown on the 13th inst., but did no serious damage.

AFFIRMED.—Among the cases decided by the Supreme Court at Harrisburg, last week, we notice one from Adams county —FICKLE et alias vs. HARTZELL—which was affirmed.

REVENUE TAXES.—By advertisement in to-day's paper it will be seen that Collector ASHCOM will be in Gettysburg on the 9th and 10th of June, to receive U. S. Taxes due on incomes, &c.

ACCEPTED.—Rev. D. SWOPE, Middleburg, New York, formerly of Gettysburg, has accepted a call from the Lutheran church at Knowersville, Albany county, New York, and will remove to that place on the 1st of of June.

REFUSED.—In the case of the application of JACOB STOCK for License to keep a public house in Gettysburg, held over from April term, the Court on Tuesday last, after hearing the testimony and argument, refused to grant the license.

RECOVERED.—Judge Russell recently recovered an old and valable book, which his father purchased in 1799 and afterward lent to Rev. Dr. McConaughy, among whose papers it was recently found. It is Calvin's notes in latin, on the five books of Moses. The book was printed in 1583, and is a unique volume.

GOOD YIELD.—Mr. Wm. S. Hamilton, of this place, last fall purchased two thorough bred Spanish Lambs, about six months old. During the past week he clipped them—one, a buck, yielding 17 lbs., and the other a ewe, yielding 14 lbs., of unwashed wool. The wool is a very superior quality.

MAIL SERVICE.—The Post-office Department has ordered the mail service on route 2,163, from Gettysburg to Idaville and return, to end at Bendersville after July 1, omitting Idaville. The service from Bendersville to Wenk's will be discontinued, and Wenk's will be served from York Springs on route No. 2,553.

RAILROAD AID.—The First Branch of the Baltimore City Council on Monday adopted an Ordinance authorizing the Mayor to raise $1,000,000, to complete the Western Maryland Railroad to Hagerstown—the money to be raised by hypothecating the stock held by the City in the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

SURGICAL.—A large adipose tumor was removed from the posterior part of the thigh of John G. Wolf, of Germany township, on Monday, the 18th inst. Mr. Wolf was put under the influence of choloroform, experiencing not the slightest pain during the operation, which was performed by Dr. C. W. Benson, assisted by Dr. James Cress.—Press.

LECTURE BY DR. ALLEN.—We learn that Dr. JNO. C. ALLEN, late Surgeon U. S. Vols., Writer and Humorist, has kindly consented to give his Lecture and Sketch Reading on The Funny of the War, for the benefit of the Homestead, on Tuesday evening next, in Agricultural Hall. Dr. Allen has delivered this reading seven times during the last six weeks with the most complete success; and we anticipate for this patriotic gentlemen a warm reception when he appears in our midst. Doors open at 7½ P. M., exercises to begin at 8 o'clock. Tickets 25 cents.

THE MONUMENT.—We understand that the Granite blocks for the Soldier's National Monument have been shipped from Connecticut by the contractor. Workmen to put up the monument are expected to arrive to day or to-morrow, so that next week the Cemetery will be the centre of attraction. The placing of the upper blocks and crowning statue will require hoisting apparatus of great strength and height.—The work will occupy several weeks. We learn that, at last accounts, in consequence of the difficulty in getting a vessel of sufficient capacity in the hold to ship the two remaining statues direct to this country, they had not left Italy. It may be that these statues will not arrive in time to be placed in position by the 1st of July. Otherwise, the monument will be complete.

HOMOEPATHIC.—The Pennsylvania Central Homoepathic Medical Society met in Harrisburg last week and organized by electing the following officers:

President—J. H. Marsden, M. D., York, Sulphur Springs.
First Vice President—C. H. von Tagen, M. D., Harrisburg.
Second Vice President—Isaac Lefever, M. D., Mechanicsburg.
Recording Secretary—C. J. Carmony, M. D., Harrisburg.
Corresponding Secretary—M. Friese, M. D., Harrisburg.
Treasurer.—R. Ross Roberts, Harrisburg.
Board of Censors—C. B. Fager, M. D., Harrisburg; J. J. Clark, M. D., Harrisburg; J. N. Clark, M. D., Mechanicsburg.

The following gentlemen were appointed to read papers on the subjects assigned at the next meeting of the Society, to be held in Harrisburg on the third Monday in November:

Dr. J. H. Marsden, Obstetrics.
Dr. C. H. von Tagen, Surgery.
Dr. J. N. Clark, Practice of Medicine.

The President was authorized to appoint three Physicians to consider the propriety of publishing a monthly journal devoted to medicine, science and literature, under the auspices of the society.

CONCERT.—The Concert in Agricultural Hall, on Tuesday evening, for the benefit of the Lutheran and Reformed Sabbath Schools, was a decided success. The hall was well filled with an appreciative audience, assured of a rich musical treat. Few towns can boast of as high order of musical talent, and the ladies and gentlemen who gave their services on this occasion well sustained their reputation. The pieces were selected with taste, and the execution, both instrumental and vocal, was warmly applauded. We annex the programme—the music being under the direction of Miss ALICE K. BAUGHER:

PART 1:—Victoria, Chorus; Waltz, Instrumental; See the Pale Moon—Duet, Misses Danner and Jacobs; May Dew—Solo, Mrs. Croll; Anvil Chorus, Full Chorus; Robin Ruff—Duet, Messrs. Baugher and Forrer; Overture to Caliph of Bagdad, Instrumental; Through Valley—Duet, Miss Danner and Dr. Fahnestock; Medley, Mr. Forrer; Tramp Chorus.

PART 2:—Strike the Cymbal, Chorus; Merry Minstrels—Duet, Mrs. Croll and Miss Jacobs; Gallop, Instrumental; Merry in the Greenwood, Miss Danner; Vadasi Via Di Qua, Quartett; Moonlight on the Rhine —Duet, Mrs. Croll and Dr. Fahnestock; La Naranjera—Solo, Miss Jacobs; Auld Lang Syne, Solo and Chorus.

The Piano used on the occasion was one of Knabe & Co's manufacture, and was generously furnished, without charge, by Prof. PETER BENTZ, of York. It is a fine, rich-toned instrument, and, under Miss Baugher's manipulation, was much admired. By-the-way, if any of our readers want a Melodeon or Piano, we advise them to call on Prof. BENTZ. We know him to be a gentleman of strict integrity and fair business dealing. He is, moreover, a practical musician, of acknowledged skill, thoroughly understands the mechanism of pianos, and guarantees all instruments that he sells—all of which are of importance in the selection of a piano. We know no gentleman to whom we would entrust the purchase of a piano as implicitly as Prof. BENTZ.

OUR DEAD HEROES.—On the 30th of May, 1868, was inaugurated the setting apart annually of a day for the decoration of the graves of the fallen heroes of the Republic. It is a graceful tribute to the heroic dead, and we hope to see each returning anniversary observed with fitting solemnity. Extensive preparations are making all over the country. The 30th falling this year on Sunday, the ceremonies at the National Cemetery, in this place, will take place to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon. We re-publish the programme, as announced last week.

The procession will move at 4 o'clock, P. M., sharp, from the Public Square, under the Marshalship of Col. JOHN H. McCLELLAN. The citizens of the county are all invited to be present. The Faculty and Students of the College are expected to attend in a body, also the Sabbath Schools, the Franklin Zouaves, the Gettysburg Brass band and the College Choir.—The services at the Soldier's Cemetery will take place at the base of the Monument. Rev. W. R. H. DEATRICH will make the opening prayer, J. HOWARD WERT, Esq., the Prologue, Rev. H. L. BAUGHER, the Oration, Rev. Dr. HAY the closing prayer. The graves will then be decorated. Flowers are solicited for this purpose from every portion of the county, and will be received up to 3 o'clock, P. M., of Saturday the 29th inst., at the stores of T. C. NORRIS and F. D. DUPHORN, on Public Square.—In view of the noble use to which they are to be applied, we trust there will be a general response to this request. The general arrangements of the day are in charge of the Gettysburg Zouaves. Messrs. Wm. P. McCartney and Wm. H. Rupp have been appointed Assistant Marshals.

The Sabbath Schools are requested to meet in their respective rooms at 3½ o'clock, and move to the public square, where places will be assigned them. The Committee request that each Sabbath School scholar, if possible, secure a bouquet and carry it to the Cemetery, where they will be collected by the Teachers and given over for distribution on the gaaves.

The following Odes will be sung on the occasion, the first having been written by Mr. HORN:

O, SOFT BE THE SLEEP OF THE BRAVES.

Written for the occasion by Edward T. Horn.

O, soft be the sleep of the braves, who have died
In the bloom of their youth or in fresh manly pride!
In the heart of the nation their ashes are sown,
Whose fruit shall be heroes, when ages have flown!

Untold be their glory, save here, where they fell,
Let the graves of the martyrs their sacrifice tell,
On these hills, the green altar that Heaven had built,
Where the red-handed war priest their life blood has spilt.

We scatter the flowers,—God's emblems of peace,
And hope that when sinning and warring shall cease,
Beyond the sad portal to glory,—the tomb,—
Each soul, in God's twilight, forever shall bloom.

GETTYSBURG, May 24th, 1869.

THE BLESSING OF FREEDOM.

Awake! and let your songs resound,
And let your songs resound,
For freedom's blessings here abound,
For blessings here abound;
The battle's strife is ended,
And peace with conquest blended
Has freedom's land with glory crowned.

No more shall proud oppression stain,
No proud oppression stain,
Our nation's wide and rich domain,
Our wide and rich domain;
Here freedom's gladd'ning story
Shall ring in shouts of glory,
While honor, truth and love shall reign.

CLASS EXERCISES.—There was quite a pleasant time in the College Campus on Saturday evening last. The members of the Senior Class, who will graduate at the approaching Commencement, have inaugurated a custom, new here, but long established at some other colleges, of planting a "Class Tree," with special ceremonies. The "Class of 1869" selected a fine oak, which was planted on the main avenue in the campus near the entrance to the grounds, and on Saturday evening several hundred ladies and gentlemen repaired to the grounds, by invitation of the class, to witness the ceremonies. The exercises were open with prayer by Rev. Dr. VALENTINE, President of the College, the Professors of the College and Seminary, Students, and Citizens, forming around the tree. Mr. F. R. FEITSHANS, of the Senior Class, made a pertinent introductory address, and was followed by Mr. J. A. Clutz, as the "class historian," and Mr. J. W. Humrichouse as the "class seer," who read creditable productions, making a number of good points in the past history and probable future of members of the class. The exercises around the tree closed by the members of the class singing a parting ode. The visitors spent the evening pleasantly until 10 o'clock in promenading the grounds, which were illuminated with a large number of Chinese lanterns suspended from the trees and in the arbors. The college building was brilliantly illuminated, and the residences of Dr. Valentine and Professors Ferrier and Croll were thrown open to visitors. The Gettysburg Brass Band was present and gave some fine music during the evening. It was a novel and pleasant entertainment and we hope to see the custom thus inaugurated followed by future classes. Marked order and decorum prevailed during the entire evening, and at 10 o'clock the crowd had left, the lights were extinguished and the campus perfectly quiet.

In this connection we may remark that in the last few weeks, the college campus has been thoroughly fitted up, and mainly by the students who went actively to work, repairing the walks and flower beds, cleaning out the under bush, fixing up arbors, planting new trees, &c. We have never seen the campus in more attractive condition. The same spirit of improvment has extended to the Preparatory Department and the Theological Seminary, the grounds having been recently fitted up and improved, presenting an attractive appearance.

PURCHASES.—Wm. E. Myers, of the Keystone House, has purchased Samuel Herbst's large new Stable across the alley, with the lot and house on Railroad street, at $2,800. It is Mr. Myers's intention to take down the stable on the Hotel lot, to secure more yard room. The new stable will accommodate seventy-five horses, with plenty of space for driving in with carriages, &c., a convenience which many of the patrons of the house will highly appreciate.

Lewis E. Kummerant has purchased from Dr. J. W. C. O'Neal and W. A. Duncan, Esq., a tract of nearly six acres, on the east side of Seminary ridge, at $750.—Compiler.

IMPROVEMENTS.—The spirit of improvement continues in different parts of the town. In addition to various repairs, we notice preparations for new buildings by the following persons:—Prof. H. L. Baugher, Mr. Monfort, and Wm. S. Hamilton, on Carlisle street, the first two near Stevens Hall, and the latter below the railroad; Joseph Wible on Railroad street, between Washington and Carlisle streets; J. L. Tate, an addition to his hotel on Washington street; John Hennigh, a Saloon in the rear of his residence on High street.

☞Persons having Black Oak Bark for sale will do well by calling on JOHN RUPP. He pays $8 00 per cord delivered at his tanyard in Gettysburg.

THE 1ST OF JULY.—The ceremonies connected with the inauguration of the Soldiers National Monument, superadded to the exercises of Commencement week of the College and Seminary, will make our town somewhat lively about the 1st of July. As there may be difficulty to accommodate the crowd of strangers who will thus be precipitated on us, we learn that DAVID WILLS, Esq., President of the Soldiers' National Cemetery, took the precaution to make application to the Secretary of War for the use of two hundred hospital tents for the accommodation of military companies and other organizations during their attendance here at the dedication of the Monument, and that this number of tents will be forwarded and put up ready for use near the town. Each tent will accommodate twenty persons. Such as may not be required for the accommodation of the military will be at the service of the civilians desiring to use them. Arrangements will be made for boarding both in the camp and in the town at reasonable rates.

A number of Military Companies have already notified Mr. Wills, the Chairman of the Committee of arrangements, of their intention to be present at the dedication, and he requests that any other organizations, military or civic, intending to participate in the exercises, should make known such intention by letter addressed to him, as early as possible, that the proper arrangements may be completed.

NATIONAL ORPHANS' HOMESTEAD.—We observe in the Philadelphia papers an appeal signed E. LATIMER, Directress, No. 2043 Chestnut street, and addressed to the ladies of Philadelphia, stating that she has been "appointed by the executive committee of the board of directors to prosecute the raising of an auxiliary contingent and endowment fund for the National Orphans' Homestead at Gettysburg. Soldiers' orphans are now inmates at the Homestead from eleven different States of the Union, while the institution has received aid from neither the National nor the State government, excepting its charter from Pennsylvania."

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.—The Ladies of the Presbyterian church propose to have in Agricultural Hall, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, June 8 and 9, a Strawberry Festival, the proceeds of which are to be applied to church purposes.—From what we have heard and seen of the arrangements in progress, we have no doubt that the occasion will be an agreeable one to all concerned. It ought to be profitable. There will be music each evening. Admittance will be free.

AID THE SOLDIERS' ORPHANS.—An appeal is hereby made to the patriotic Ladies of Gettysburg and elsewhere, to aid the Orphans of the National Homestead.—It is proposed to provide a large supply of Fancy Articles and Relics of the Battle, for the children to sell during the approaching Dedication of the Battle Monument. Many strangers visiting the place at that time will be glad to purchase some small relic or memento of the occasion, and thereby aid this great national charity at the same time. In order to effect a larger sale, it is deemed best that the articles prepared should not be large or costly—but small, simple and convenient to carry.

Persons desiring to contribute articles suitable for the purpose, or any materials for the Orphans themselves can send them to Mrs. Hinton, at the Orphans' Home, where they will be gratefully received.

PROGRESSING.—The work on the Springs Hotel and the Passenger Railroad, under the energetic superintendence of Dr. Smith, is progressing finely. The Hotel will be finished in a few weeks, and the Company expect to have it furnished in time for the great gathering of July 1. We understand that a number of rooms have been already engaged.

BEST MACHINE.—As the country is full of Reapers and Mowers, and Farm Implements of all kinds, many of them gotten up for more show, and many others that have been tried and pronounced worthless—Farmers should therefore consult their interests by buying such as have been already tested, and have a reputation for doing good work, and not liable to break or get out of order. They will find in the Ohio Buckeye, and World Machine, sold by WM. WIBLE, all these qualities combined. All machines guaranteed to give satisfaction or no sale. Farmers wanting machines should examine these Machines before buying elsewhere. See advertisement on another page.—These Machines can be seen at the warehouse of Joseph Wible and Sons, Gettysburg, Pa. 1t

"GALLUSES."—We hang men on the gallows, but we hang our breeches on the "galluses." Now it must be a very provoking thing to a man getting nicely hung to have the gallows give way all of sudden; and a very provoking thing it is to have our "galluses" give away. The only way to prevent such an awkward experience is by buying them at Oak Hall. Wanamaker & Brown have enlarged their Gents' Furnishing Department and you can get shirts, collars, suspenders,—everything in that line at the lowest of low prices. 1t

THE FIVE WONDERS OF GETTYSBURG FOR ALL TO VISIT—The Katalysine Springs—Orphans National Home —National Cemetery—Pennsylvania College—and E. H. MINNIGH's Cream Soda and Ice Cream Establishment, on Chambersburg St., adjoining Keystone Hotel.

P. S. Our Cream Soda is delicious. tf

BRICK.—Mr. SAMUEL HERBST is furnishing a kiln of 100,000 brick, which is of the best make and waranted to give satisfaction. In the coming week he will start another large kiln. Persons in want of a good article should not fail to give Mr. HERBST a trial. 1t*

☞If any of our readers want a first-rate Hat or Cap, at moderate price, we advise them to call on our friend, Col. S. S. McCREARY, on Chambersburg street, where they will allways find Hats and Caps of all kinds, of latest styles, at lowest market prices. 1t

STILL AHEAD!

HOFFHEINS'

REAPER & MOWER,

One of the Greatest Machines of the Age,

IS superior to any other Machine now in use, and will excel any that will ever be introduced, having been thoroughly tried and given general satisfaction. I would now inform all those who intend purchasing Machines to call and examine for themselves. This Machine is noted particularly to excel all other machines in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability of work, in all kinds of grass and grain.—It cuts lodged grain admirably, which is a great item in Machines to a farmer. It can be used as a hand rake as well as a self-raker. It cuts 5 feet 2 inches in grain; 4 feet 10 inches in grass; has a steel cutter bar, with wrought iron guards; it can be used as a Single Mower as well as a Combined Machine.

A full trial of the Machine can be had.

Also, SHIREMAN'S SELF-DISCHARGING HORSE RAKE, and the great and well-known BRANT RAKE, the best rakes ever introduced. We would also call your attention to the IRON DOUBLE SHOVEL PLOUGH, wrought iron frame, very light and strong, steel shovels, easily adjusted to run shallow or deep, and is neatly and tastefully made.

ALSO, THE KEELER AND EXCELSIOR FANNING MILL, the old Bamborough Fan improved, for many years a great favorite among the farmers of Pennsylvania. It is large and strong, has two cockle screens, and warranted to work perfectly.

Also all kinds of FARMING IMPLEMENTS always on hand.

Any person wishing to examine these machines can see them at the Battle-field Hotel, or at my residence, 3 miles from Gettysburg, between the Taneytown road and the Baltimore pike.

LEWIS A. BUSHMAN.

COLBURN'S PATENT

RED JACKET

AXE

Is better than our regular shaped Axes for these reasons: First—It cuts deeper. Second—It don't stick in the wood Third—It does not jar the hand—Fourth—No time is wasted in taking the Axe out of the cut. Fifth—With the same labor you will do one-third more work than with regular Axes. Red paint has nothing to do with the good qualities of this Axe, for all our Axes are painted red. If your hardware store does not keep our goods, we will gladly answer inquiries or fill your orders direct, or give you the name of the nearest dealer who keeps our Axes.

THE WORLD,

DODGES' OHIO AND BUCKEYE

Reapers and Mowers.

A careful examination of these machines will commence any one of their superior merits over all others, in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability for work, on all kinds of ground, and in every variety of grass and grain. Confident of this we invite those in want of a good machine to examine for themselves before purchasing elsewhere.

These machines can be sold as Naked Mowers—REAPERS as Hand Rake, Self-Rake, or Dropper.—Two different sizes: No. 1 Machine, with two cutter Bars and three Knives, cutting five and a half feet in grain and four feet eight inches in grass; No. 2, cutting four feet six inches.

We have that confidence in these machines that we are willing to let those wanting a machine test them with any other they may wish, and keep the one that gives most satisfaction. DODGES' AUTOMAN SELF-RAKE has given such general satisfaction that we consider it the best Self-Rake out, and is attached to no other machine except the Dodge Machine, the Ohio and Buckeye patent.

For the benefit of those wanting machines we would refer them to a few of those to whom we have sold the last season, viz:

John Deardorff, Sen., Henry Culp,
Ephraim Lady, Henry King,
George Lady, Elisha Penrose,
Jonathan Wisler, David Stewart
James Mickley, W. Ross White,
Daniel Settle, J. J. Kerr,
John Bender, Andrew Weikert,
John Eckert, Wm. Bigham,
Wm. Funt, John Gulop,
Cornelius Lott, John N. Hoffman,
Wm. Gulden, John N. Boyer,
Wm. Ross.

Also, WIRE-TOOTH HAY RAKES, including the celebrated Brandt Rake, and Self-discharging Rakes. Also, PLOUGHS, FANNING MILLS, AND FARM IMPLEMENTS GENERALLY.

Persons wishing to examine machines will find them at the warehouse of JOSEPH WIBLE & SONS, Gettysburg, Pa., or at the residence of the subscriber, 2 miles from Gettysburg, on the Harrisburg road. Persons wanting Circulars will address the subscriber, Gettysburg, Pa.

WM. WIBLE, Agent.

GET THE BEST!

NISHWITZ'S IMPROVED MOWER AND REAPER.

The strongest, lightest draft, most compact, simple and perfect Machine ever offered to the public.

The undersigned having taken the Agency for Nishwitz's Celebrated Improved Mower and Reaper, invites the attention of the Farmers of Adams county to it, as the very best machine now in market. Its general construction, embracing every necessary point to constitute a perfect machine, is so simple that the most inexperienced person can readily understand it. It consists of a less number of bolts, pieces and parts than any other machine, and is better adapted to all kinds of Reaping and Mowing. A thorough examination and trial will show this beyond all doubt. Farmers desiring to purchase a first class machine, at low price, will do well to call and examine it. Price $125; Reaper Attachment $35.

ALSO—THE

Cucumber Wood Pump,

for Wells, Cisterns, &c.,—the best in market—and the stock being made of cucumber wood the taste of the water is not affected.

☞Persons desiring to see the Mower and Reaper, or Pump, can do so by calling at Cress' Warehouse, Gettysburg; Hersh's Warehouse, New Oxford, or at the residence of the subscriber in New Salem.

May 14, 1869.—3m* JOSEPH KUNKLE.

J. H. SHIREMAN'S

REAPERS & MOWERS.

HAVING been agent for this machine last season, I also offer it to the farmer this season. It is well known, having taken the premium at the Bendersville Fair, also at the Gettysburg Mowing Match over seven others, which were considered splendid machines, and likewise at the Dillsburg Mowing Match. Having concluded not to offer any machine that will not give entire satisfaction, I have refused agencies of several other machines, and now offer this one as THE GREAT MACHINE OF THE SEASON.

Having tried one myself, I know exactly what it will do. I could refer you to scores of farmers who have purchased machines of me, who are highly pleased and say this is the only machine they would use.

Extras always on hand, and repairing done here at my place. This is a great consideration—the machine can be repaired at home immediately, and with much less cost.

Another great saving is the BINDER which is attached to this celebrated Reaper and Mower. It has been thoroughly tried, and given entire satisfaction—requiring no harvest hand except a driver. This Binder can also be attached to the Reapers which have been sold; but cannot be attached to any other machine except Shireman's.

I will here refer you to a few farmers, in different localities, who have bought and used these machines

Michael Fiscel, Stephen Gettier,
Moses Hartman, Mr. Sterner,
Joseph Wierman, Mr. Linn,
Ulrich Jacobs, J. R. Hershey
Jacob Hartman, B. B. Woodburn.
Jacob Laman,

with others, too numerous to mention

This machine has a self-rake, side delivery, and is warranted to do its work as above recommended.

Also on hand, SHIREMAN'S SELF-DISCHARGING HORSE RAKE, a first-rate article, which we will sell at the lowest possible price. Warranted to give satisfaction. Also the COLUMBIA RAKE always on hand.

Machines can be seen at my house, three miles south of Gettysburg, or at Mr. Conrad Snyder's Battlefield Hotel.

GENERAL NEWS.

Rufus L. Lord, the victim of the great "Lord bond robbery," died in New York.

A suit is set down for early trial in a Tennessee court to test the right of a magistrate solemnizing a marriage to kiss the bride.

One patent medicine manufacturer advirtises in twenty-five hunderd papers in this country. It is needless to add that his profits are enormous.

The new whipping post and pillory at New Castle, Delaware, were inaugurated on Saturday. Three criminals were pilloried and ten were whipped.

The Governor has appointed Strickland Kneass, Esq., Chief Engineer of Philadelphia, and Colonel James Worrall, of Harrisburg, to be Commissioners, under the act of Assembly approved March 20, 1869, to settle, determine and locate the southern boundary line of this Commonwealth.

A delegation of the Baltimore Association of Friends saw the President on the 17th in relation to the re-establishment of schools in the South. The delegation are appointed to advise with the leading Friends in the Southern country, and particularly in North Carolina, in reference to the above subject.

The ordinance granting the Baltimore and Potomac railroad the right of way through certain streets in Baltimore City and to tunnel certain streets has been passed by both branches of the Councils and been signed by the Mayor. Work is actively progressing, and a new Railroad line from Baltimore to Washington will be completed within a year.

Lumber Trade.—The Columbia Herald says: "The lumber trade is quite active, and dealers appear to be purchasing heavy stocks. We quote pine boards at $19 to $22; hemlock at $13 50 to $15, pine timber 18 to 20 cents per cubic foot. There are a great number of rafts in the water at our wharves; none are arriving as the water is too low"

John Clem, of Ohio, the famous drummer boy, who dropped his drum for a musket, at Chickamauga, and shot a Rebel Colonel who demanded his surrender, and who was subsequently wounded in another engagement, has been appointed a cadet at large to West Point by the President. He was but 12 years of age when he beat his drum, and is scarce 17 now.

Dr. Lewis of Carmathen, Wales, has forwarded to The British Medical Journal an account of his examination of Sarah Jacobs of Lanfihangiar-Arth, who is said to have taken no food since October 10, 1867, and not even water since the end of December, 1868. Dr. Lewis remarks that the statements made respecting Sarah Jacobs are of such an astounding nature that belief is scarcely possible, yet he accumulates evidence which might produce conviction. The girl's parents are respectable farmers, not in needy circumstances.

A correspondent of The San Francisco Bulletin, who lately visted Queen Emma in her Sandwich Island home, found her reclining upon mats and pillows in the Oriental style. A broad verandah made a most refreshing shade. She offered her visitors a dish of edible bark (a little like slippery elm, but very tender,) and some fruits. Her grace and dignity were singularly pleasing. Her only coronet was of wild flowers, which are very generally worn by both sexes, and are very becoming. Chains of flowers and berries hung about her neck also, giving out an agreeable odor.

A Nice Country.—The acquisition of Alaska from Russia, at a cost of some seven million dollars, was considered by the late Secretary of State, Mr. Seward, quite a "feather in his cap." What kind of a country it is, we are told by a Sitka correspondent, who writes: "Take one big mountain covered with trees from the base nearly to the summit, with an undergrowth of brush, briers and moss, almost impassable; multiply the one by ten thousand, and you have Alaska. There is a terrible sameness. One singular feature of this mass of forest is the absence of birds. I have seen but one robin in Sitka."

A Snake with Two Heads.—On Thursday, April 20th, 1869, a man named Joseph Brant, living in Harrison tp., about half a mile north of Buffalo Mills, when going to his work after dinner, heard his dog barking not far from the road, and upon going to the place found a large blacksnake lying by the side of a stone pile. After procuring a weapon, with which he killed it, he found that it had two perfect heads, one on each end.

Notwithstanding the snaky appearance of this article it is vouched for by responsible parties.—Bedford Inquirer.

Seven companies of the Fifth United States Cavalry, under command of General Carr, while moving from Kansas towards Fort McPherson, on the 30th instant struck a camp of five hundred Cheyenne Indians, and a desperate fight ensued. The Indians were badly whipped, and at last advices General Carr was still in pursuit of them. The Indian loss was twenty-five killed and a large number wounded, the cavalry losing three men killed and three wounded.—A party of Indians at Fort Hayes had to be roughly used to prevent their murdering the guards. In Arizona they are committing murders and depredations.

In Dennisville and other places in New Jersey a heavy business is done in raising cedar trees out of the marshes in which they were buried many centuries ago, and covered with peat. The wood raised from these buried forests is as sound as if recently felled, and is mostly made into shingles. Tree after tree from 200 to 1,000 years old, may be found one over another in the salt marshes on the "Jersey flats," showing the immense age of the lowest layers, and also showing that this region has been gradually sinking for thousands of years. In one case a tree with 500 annual rings was found directly under the stump of another in which 1,000 were counted.

A woman writes to the New York Times from Washington some very sensible reflections on department clerkships. They are not only sensible but timely, and it would be better for the country could they be heeded. No more undesirable position for man or woman, young or old, could be named than a desk in a department at Washington. The salary is rarely more than is required for subsistence; the temptations to go astray are many and strong; the routine of occupation is uninstructive in itself, and leads to nothing higher; the time after office hours hangs listlessly on the clerk's hands; and after years of unprofitable service the officeholder too often leaves the Capital unfitted for anything else in life.

The Postmaster-General has re-organized the special mail service, and for that purpose has divided the country into six divisions, each of which has assistants, superintendents, and a railway mail service agent, to investigate mail depredations, and also three post office inspectors. The New England States make up the first district, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Virginia constitute the second district. Roswell Hart, of Rochester, is the superintendent of railway service. The inspectors are, for the first district, Israel McDonald, of Elmira, N. Y.; the second, H. C. Hopkins, of Lancaster, Pa., and James L. Wagner, of Baltimore. The agents appointed to investigate mail depredations, James Gayler, New York, and E. B. Petherbridge, of Baltimore.

Medical.

YOUNT'S COMPOUND
PUTRID SORE THROAT, INFLUENZA,

or any other Inflammatory or inward disease of the Throat if not of too long standing. Also, SCARLET FEVER. This medicine has been tried in in different parts of the country, and has never been known to fail if taken in time and according to directions. It is warranted to cure. Give it a trial and it will speak for itself. Every household should provide themselves with a box of this medicine and keep it on hand. The cures that it has effected are truly marvelous.

THE GREAT

ZINGARI BITTERS.
A SAFE BLOOD PURIFIER,
A SPLENDID TONIC,
A PLEASANT BEVERAGE.
A CERTAIN CURE
AND PREVENTIVE OF DISEASES.

The ZINGARI BITTERS are compounded from a prescription of the celebrated Egyptian physician Dr. Cheopsus, who, after years of trial and experiment, discovered the Zingarini Herb—the most remarkable vegetable production, the earth, perhaps, has ever yielded—certainly the most effective in the cure of disease. It, in combination with the other valuable properties of which the ZINGARI BITTERS is composed, will cure

Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague, Billious Fever, Cholic, Colds, Bronchitis, Consumption in its first stage, Flatulency, Nervous Debility, Female Complaints, Rheumatism, Dysentery, Acute and Chronic Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cholera, Typhoid and Typhus Fever, Yellow Fever, Scrofula, Diseases of the Kidneys, Habitual Costiveness, &c., &c.

In the Prevention and Cure of the above diseases, it has never been known to fail, as thousands of our most prominent citizens throughout all parts of the country, will testify. Let the afflicted send for circular containing testimonials and certificates of those who have been cured after their cases have been pronounced hopeless by our best physicians.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,
For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

THE GREAT

Invigorator and Restorer OF THE Vitality of the Stomach.

Prepared from Pure Vegetable Materials.

Pure Tonics and the most Pleasant Aromatics.

This invaluable Remedy for Dyspepsia and General Debility of the system is offered to the public, after a fair trial of its merits, with entire confidence that it will command their approval. It has been submitted, with the materials which compose it, to practising Physicians—among others to Dr. M. D. G. Pfeiffer, one of our oldest and most eminent Physicians, residing at New Oxford, who, after examination, pronounced it a Remedy which would not fail to show its salutary effects, when properly administered, in cases of Dyspepsia, springing from old age and debilitating effects of serious inward diseases—weakening, and at last destroying the nervous power of the stomach itself—and therefore entitling it to be emphatically called "The Great Invigorator."

Dr. W. J. McClure, another prominent Physician of New Oxford, thus gives his opinion:

New Oxford, Dec. 30, 1868.

Mr. John Busbey.

Dear Sir:—At your request I have examined "The Great Invigorator," prepared by you, and the formula from which it is prepared. It is composed of some of the most powerful vegetable tonics and most pleasant aromatics known to our profession, and I have no hesitancy in recommending it in Chronic cases of Dyspepsia; and in all cases of Indigestion resulting from debility of the Stomach. Believing that, if properly used, it will be of incalculable benefit to the suffering of our race, I subscribe myself,

Yours, very respectfully,
W. J. McCLURE, M. D.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR
FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.
The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

HAIR DRESSING,

Roth's Improvement for Opening, Closing and Latching Gates,

MAY be attached to any gate and operated from buggy, team or saddle, by one hand, in any desired direction from the gate—opened and closed from one point, at any distance from the gate. This improvement is simple and cheap, yet perfect and strong, will not be disarranged by the sagging of the gate, nor by the frost raising the posts; may be made at a country blacksmith's, and easily attached to a gate. [illegible] will sell Township and Farm Rights of this improvement.
